NB: New members are formally admitted to membership during the Annual General Meeting (held in July at the Annual Conference) following their first application, and are especially welcome to attend the conference on this occasion. In the meantime, new members receive the journal, Practical Theology, and enjoy full member benefits.

I wish to apply for/renew my membership of BIAPT. I agree to the personal information provided in this form being collected and retained by BIAPT and used for the Association's administrative purposes, which includes external database & website support. This information may be used by BIAPT officers to communicate with me by email about my membership, and to inform me of BIAPT news and events. BIAPT will share my name and postal address with the publisher of Practical Theology for distribution of journals, but will not pass my data to any other third parties without further explicit permission being granted. When my membership expires, my personal data will be deleted from BIAPT records after a maximum of two years, although I may request an earlier removal.
